Headteacher: Mrs Helen Goulder

Dear Parents,

As the Coronavirus threat increases, we continue to follow guidelines for washing hands and encouraging children to cough into the crook of their arm. We are also asking that if your child is unwell, that they stay at home to contain the germs. The same message has been given to staff as we try and break this cycle of infection, particularly in KS2.

We are also planning a deep clean of the whole school when the school is closed at the weekend. Mr Gynn is still unwell and has been advised to remain off work for most of this coming week. In his absence, I am teaching Maple class.

Homework will come home mid-week. In the meantime, the children can begin their Reading Challenge and continue to learn their tables.

A consequence of Mr Gynn's absence is unfortunately the need to cancel Parents Evenings for Maple class and reschedule when he is back in school. Details will follow asap.

WORLD BOOK DAY

Thank you for your support. The children had some very creative costumes. My thanks go to Jean Coles who came to award book tokens to each class. Winners were Amelie, Harry/Joe, Pia and Molly. During the day we created a whole school story, written in parts starting with Oak. The story sections were served up to each class on a silver tray. Mrs Elwyn shared the story on Friday so we could see how it developed. We are planning to share this with you via the school website. Mr Sharman will do his magic to put this in place. Details will follow shortly.
