

Away you

Enter The Week Junior's gardening contest with this fun board game.

How to play

You will need a dice and enough counters for everyone playing. Decide who's going first and then play in a clockwise direction. Take turns to roll the dice and move the number of places on the side that lands face-up. You must land exactly on the final space in order to win.

1  2

START
You have just planted your seeds.

3

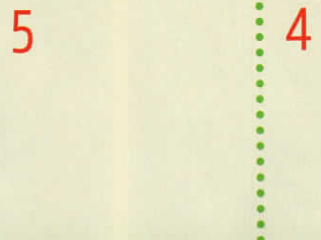

A flock of bullfinches lands on your vegetable patch and eats the seeds. Go back to the start.

8

7

6

A morning of rain is followed by an afternoon of warm sunshine. Roll again.

5

4

9

13

Your first seedlings break through the soil. Move forward one space.

14

15

An overnight frost hits your plants. Miss a turn.

16

12

You were so busy reading The Week Junior that you forget to water your seeds. Go back two spaces.

19

The neighbours' cat poos on your vegetable patch and you have to clean it up. Go back two spaces.

18

17

10

11

20

22

21

23

A friend goes on holiday and you offer to water their plants for them. Switch places with the player who is furthest behind you.

grow!

WOW!
According to Guinness World Records, the world's longest cucumber was 107cm long. The record has remained unbroken since 2011.

8
Your plants are growing well. Move forward two spaces.

29

39
There is a hole in the bottom of your watering can, so you have to buy a new one. Go back three spaces.

41

7
Dozens of slugs and snails have invaded your garden. You have to pick up each one and remove them. Roll a 2, 4 or 6 to progress.

30

38

42
Your crops are ripe and ready to eat. Pick your best specimens for a competition and move on one space.

6
You spend the day carefully removing weeds. Move back five spaces.

31

44

45

46
Someone eats your best cucumber. Miss a turn while you investigate who ate it.

32

36
Two weeks of perfect weather ripens your crops. Move forward two spaces.

47

33
A mole digs up part of your vegetable patch. Miss a turn.

34

48
You are so excited about the competition you can't fall asleep until very late. You are so tired your alarm doesn't wake you and you sleep in. Move back three spaces.

49

50
FINISH!
You make it to the competition and win first prize. Now you can prepare and enjoy a feast made from your home-grown harvest.